

Level 1 Frequently Missed: Spacing

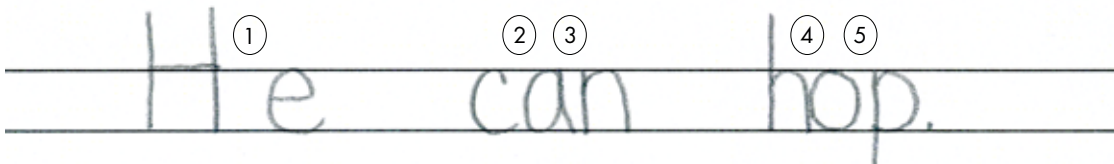

Refer to The Print Tool™ Guide for Spacing Rules

- 1) Look at the example below for spacing between letters. The child is in first grade. Is the first letter spacing attempt an error?

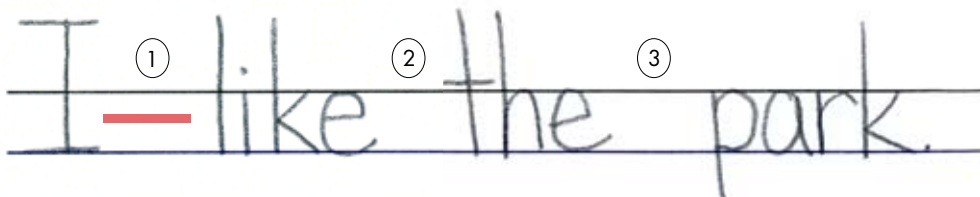

- No, the letters are within the bar for this child.

- 2) Look at the example below for spacing between letters. The child is in first grade. Is the fourth letter spacing attempt an error?

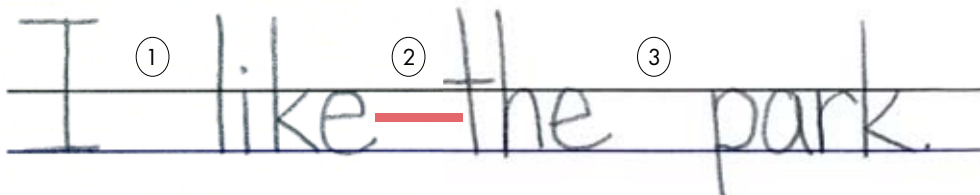

- Yes, this is a Spacing error because the letters are touching.

- 3) Look at the example below for spacing between words. The child is in first grade. Is this 1st word spacing attempt an error?

- No, this is not a Spacing error. The letters are farther than the bar when measuring from the farthest part of the 1st word to the closest part of the next word.

- 4) Look at the example below for spacing between words. The child is in first grade. Is the second word spacing attempt an error?

- Yes, this is a Spacing error for spacing between words. The words are too close together when measuring the bar from the farthest part of the 1st word to the closest part of the next word.
