Level 1 Frequently Missed: Memory
Refer to The Print Tool® Guide for Memory Rules

Remember:
- Memory Errors: Unidentifiable in Context

1) Is this a Memory error?
    - You ask the student to write a capital P. It looks like this.
    - This is a Memory error. It is unidentifiable in context.

2) Is this letter a Memory error?
    - You ask the student to make a lowercase u. It looks like this.
    - This is NOT a Memory error. In context, this letter can be recognized as a u. It looks like a D'Nealian u. Therefore, it is identifiable in context.

3) Is this a capital Memory error?
    - You ask the student to write a capital letter Q but they write a lowercase letter q.
    - This is a capital Memory error.

4) Is this a lowercase Memory error?
    - You ask the student to write a lowercase y. It looks like the Y that is shown on the left.
    - This is a lowercase Memory error.

5) Is this letter a Memory error?
    - You ask the student to write a lowercase d and they write a lowercase b.
    - This is NOT a Memory error. It is an Orientation error.